

Saturday & Sunday February 25-26, 2012

Here we go again! We hope you all enjoyed the first competition and are ready to go at it again. Starbound is a competition we have attended in the past, but some things have changed (including the venue) and we hope you will be patient as we all experience this competition.

All solos and duets will compete on Saturday & Sunday followed by an awards ceremony and all group dances will take place on Sunday followed by their own awards ceremony. If you are not competing on Saturday you are not required to attend on Saturday but are highly encouraged to come and support your teammates. If you do come please be dressed in your superstars warm up and remember that you are still representing the Superstars.

Below you will find a more detailed schedule of meeting and performances times. Also, Starbound does NOT give us exact performance times! They only give us the division start time, so please expect to do a little waiting before performing and know that the 'performance time' listed below is the start time and we will not know exact times until arrival on Saturday and Sunday. They have also stressed to us to be early, so expect some waiting at this one.
